

The diploma work is called: The cooperation of psychosocial crisis workers and fire fighters. Psychosocial crisis workers and fire fighters meet at extraordinary situations – at disasters, where they are in the role's of helpers. The diploma work is written from the position of newcomer, who is learning how to do their job well.

The aim of this thesis is to chart the areas and possibilities of the cooperation between these two professions which meet in practice, so that they can make their job well and in harmony with their own expectations and expectations of the others.

The thesis bear upon specialized literature from Czech and foreign environment. Procedures and methodics are compiles especially according to the valid legislation and The Standards of psychosocial crisis help and cooperation.

The thesis is divided into two parts – the theoretical and the practical. The theoretical part consists of definitions of basic therm, the desrcibtion of the psychosocial crisis help and cooperation and the work of fire fighters from the point of view of their values, principals, roles, impositions, targets of help and cooperation and their bearers. The central part focuses on the area of cooperation between them. The end of the thesis is devoted to considerations about good practice and some experience of it.

The Practical part is unwinded of realized qualitative research – interviews with helpers during the concrete extraordinary situation. Finded out data are compared with theoretical basis and enrich of suggestions of possibilities of cooperation between psychosocial crisis workers and fire fighters.